Initial Driver CPC training

From the 10th September 2009 a new legislative directive came into force with the aim of improving the skills and knowledge of all LGV drivers throughout their working lives.

What does this mean to you?

Persons wishing to acquire Medium Goods entitlement (for vocational purposes) must pass the Driver CPC initial qualification exams.

EP Training can assist you in all matters relating to Driver CPC Initial and Periodic training.

Applying for Provisional Cat C1 entitlement

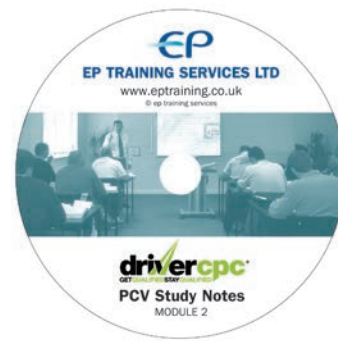

- Candidates must next apply for the correct C1 provisional entitlement .
- The D2 is required to be completed for C1 provisional entitlement.
Please ensure the application form is read carefully before it is completed, especially the section asking which licence is wanted; the 'C1' Box should be ticked.
- The C1 provisional application is free of charge.
- When complete, post the forms and relevant identification to the DVLA in the pre-addressed 'brown envelope'.

If you currently have a photo type licence, then the documents that need to be sent to the DVLA are:

- D4 Form
- D2 Form
- Both parts of your licence

While waiting for the licence to come through, it would be highly advisable to start reading the MGV Theory Test book, Hazard Perception DVD and the Case Study DVD.

You can purchase all the books and DVD direct from EP Training.

Theory and Hazard Perception Test. Module 1

The theory and hazard perception are two separate examinations and are sat independently of each other.

Theory test (Module 1A)

To pass the theory test you are required to answer 100 multiple choice questions.

You must get at least 85 correct to be awarded a pass. The theory test exam lasts 1 hour and 45 minutes. Test fees: £35.

The Hazard Perception Test (Module 1B)

The hazard perception test consists of 20 hazard clips. You are required to identify as and when hazards appear on the screen. It is highly recommended you acquire The Official Hazard Perception CD ROM.

The required pass mark is 67 out of 100. Theory test fee £15

If you fail the hazard perception test but have passed the theory test, then you only resit the hazard perception test, and vice versa.

There are numerous test centres around the country, so you shouldn't have far to travel to take the theory and hazard perception test. Once a booking has been made, confirmation of date, time and location will be sent to you.

EP will arrange your bookings for you.

Case Study Test. Module 2

- A case study examination which must be sat at a DVSA approved theory test centre.
- The exam lasts for 1 hour and 30 minutes.
- You will be asked a variety of questions with multiple choice answers.
- The exam will use diagrams, video clips, text and audio to help illustrate the questions.
- Each test will consist of 7 case studies. In turn you will be asked 6-8 questions per scenario.

To get a pass you must get at least 40 out of 50 questions correct.

Test fee £30. Please note, Module 2 is not required if your Medium Goods Vehicle licence is not vocational.

Practical Driving Test. Module 3

- Module 3 (Practical Driving Test) you will be required to undergo a practical driving test with a DVSA examiner.
- You must be able to demonstrate competence and safety during your drive.
- The test will last 1 hour and 30 minutes
- You will be assessed on reversing, lane discipline, maintaining progress, uphill and downhill starts, fuel efficient driving, etc.
- It may be the case that you are acquiring your C1 licence for private use only, i.e. your main occupation will not be driving a lorry for a living. If this is the case then only modules 1 and 3 need be attained.

Practical Associated Knowledge Test. Module 4

- Module 4 is a separate practical test that lasts for approximately 30 minutes.
- Module 4 can be taken before or after module 3.
- You must provide a vehicle for demonstration purposes
- You will be assessed by a DVSA examiner at a DVSA testing centre.
- The examiner will ask a number of questions relating to vehicle and load safety and security. This may, for example include demonstrating a pre-use vehicle check or show how you would use restraining devices to secure loads.
- You must be able to demonstrate and explain your answers
- The overall pass mark for module 4 is 80%. You must also attain at least 75% in each section.
